

The First Grade Plant

by: Kirstie, Hannah,
Stephen, Britton, Samantha

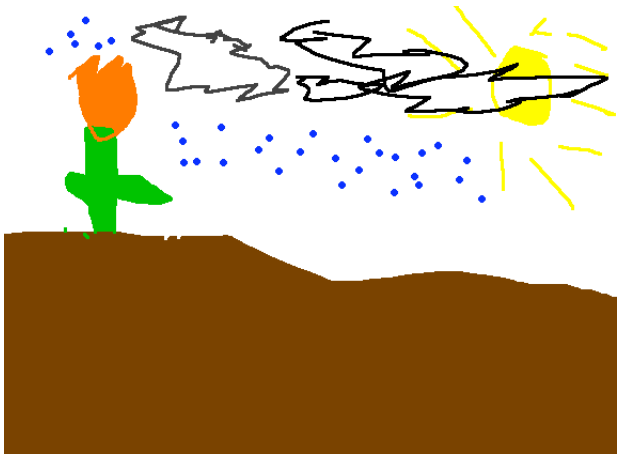

These are the roots that hold up the stem that carries the water through the plant that grew in first grade.

This is the stem that holds up the plant and carries the water through the plant that grew in first grade.

These are the leaves that make the food that grow on the stem that carries water through the plant that grew in first grade.

This is the plant that grew in first grade.

This is the flower that makes the seeds that grow on the stem that carries the water through the plant that grew in first grade.